Morristown

<http://www.visitnj.org/city/morristown>

Although best known as the location of Gen. George Washington's winter headquarters during the Revolutionary War, Morristown also offers many modern delights, including a friendly downtown with interesting shops, restaurants and entertainment.

All action starts at "the green," the 200-year-old grassy oasis in the middle of the active downtown. Dating back to the 18th century, when it was a courthouse square, it's still a community gathering place and a great site for a picnic or a game of catch.

Morristown National Historical Park is part of the region of NJ known as "The Crossroads of the American Revolution National Heritage Area." The park designates where Gen. George Washington and the brave but freezing and nearly starving Continental Army spent the winters of 1777-78 and the "cold hard winter" of 1779-80.

In addition to its historical sites, Morristown is rich in the arts. Arts and culture lovers should check out the Mayo Performing Arts Center, which pulls global talent to its stage. And there's the Morris Museum, home to the world-renowned Murtoth D. Guinness Collection of finely crafted, animated mechanical musical instruments and automata. The museum also houses the Bickford Theatre and presents award-winning performances for all ages.

Nature lovers will enjoy the Fosterfields Living Historical Farm (73 Kahdena Rd.) is a 200-acre farm where you can feed chickens, collect eggs, use a washboard and husk corn, all using turn-of-the-century methods. There are also farm animals, picnic tables and The Willows, an 1854 Gothic Revival house built by Paul Revere's grandson Gen. Joseph Revere.

Clinton

<http://www.visitnj.org/city/clinton>

Picture-perfect Clinton looks like it was made with a painter's brush, and many a movie producer has succumbed to its charms. Stroll across the antique iron bridge, built in 1870, to cross the Raritan River and take in an unimpeded view of the 200-foot-wide waterfall. Perched on either side of the bridge are classic grist mills, both of which have been given modern new leases on life. The landmark 10-acre Red Mill Museum Village is home to the Hunterdon Historical Museum, which has a collection of more than 40,000 historic artifacts. You'll also find a replica of a log cabin, an old schoolhouse and the Mulligan quarry buildings on its grounds. In October, the Haunted Mill is an especially popular Halloween scare fest. Across the river, The Stone Mill is where you'll find the Hunterdon Art Museum, a center for contemporary arts, crafts and design. If you feel inspired to capture Clinton's marvelous views, the museum offers more than 200 fine art classes. Nearby Main Street is lined with cafes, specialty shops and art galleries.

Hoboken

<http://www.visitnj.org/city/hoboken>

Don't let Hoboken's mile-square size fool you. It may be small, but its brownstones radiate a big city's vibe of youthful energy complete with hip restaurants, cool bars and funky shops.

This vibrant, walk-able small town is a unique delight. Its strategic location on the banks of the Hudson River across from lower Manhattan means waterside walkways boast postcard-perfect views from day to night.

Grab some friends and follow the Hudson River along River Street. Along the way, you will find enticing parks and outdoor diversions, including free and open to the public kayaking at the Hoboken Cove Boathouse at Maxwell Place (11th Street).

Hoboken's main thoroughfare, Washington Avenue, is lined with bustling dining and drinking spots. Pop into East LA for delicious Mexican delights or Amanda's for an upscale take on American classics. You'll also find one-of-a-kind shops along Willow Avenue, such as Battaglia's, lined with hip kitchen wares, gadgets and decor.
